Business Management BA (Hons) (including foundation year)

About this course

Effective business management requires both theory and practice, and this course provides you with an opportunity to develop both your understanding of theory as well as its application in a wide variety of situations, as well as developing your practical skills. The course provides you with the skills and attributes that will enable you to compete and succeed in a wide range of fields that require management.

You will develop an understanding of the purposes, structures, size, scale, governance, operations and management of the functions and processes of business organisations, as well as the corporate behaviours and cultures which exist within and between different organisations. The course is designed to prepare you to deal with contemporary issues and challenges in the world of business.

Why study with London Metropolitan University Centres?

- Study in the heart of London, Birmingham or Manchester
- Evening and weekend study options available
- Careers and ACE (Academic Community of Excellence) Teams available for advice and support
- Multiple intakes through the year
- Foundation year option available

What you'll study

During your foundation year, you will engage with business challenges in a stimulating environment, while boosting your confidence and acquiring crucial academic skills. This acts as excellent preparation for your subsequent three years of study, which will allow you to specialise in more specific and advanced areas of business.

During the programme, you will study a range of modules including the Business Environment, Business Decision Making, Leadership and Management, Strategic Management as well as the chance to develop a business plan and complete a research project (dissertation). In addition, you will undertake personal and academic skills development.

The overall aim of the course is to deliver a contemporary and dynamic programme of study. You will be provided with the knowledge and skills inherent in the subject to prepare you for a career in business management. You will also increase your understanding of organisations, their management, the economy and the business environment.
